September - December 2018

The Post (12A) September 28th

Katharine Graham is the first female publisher of a major American newspaper -- The Washington Post. With help from editor Ben Bradlee, Graham races to catch up with The New York Times to expose a massive cover-up of government secrets that spans three decades and four U.S. presidents. Together, they must overcome their differences as they risk their careers -- and very freedom -- to help bring long-buried truths to light.

The Commuter (15) October 19th

Insurance salesman Michael (Liam Neeson) is on his daily commute home, which quickly becomes anything but routine. After being contacted by a mysterious stranger, Michael is forced to uncover the identity of a hidden passenger on the train before the last stop. As he works against the clock to solve the puzzle, he realizes a deadly plan is unfolding, and he is unwittingly caught up in a criminal conspiracy that carries life and death

November 17th Dust, Diamonds and Democracy, a prequel

An introduction to Sir Seretse Khama's legacy, Botswana's emergence from British rule and its lasting democracy, with a visual tour of the Okavango Delta¸ the Chobe National Park and the stunning wildlife of the country.

A United Kingdom (12A) November 23rd

In the late 1940s, Prince Seretse Khama of Botswana shocks the world when he marries a white woman from London. Against all odds, King Khama and Ruth must struggle to maintain their love and help their people in a land that would attain independence to become the Republic of Botswana, Africa's most democratic state.
